DIRECTOR'S NOTE

I have always hated school. Getting up early, having to do homework, studying for tests- they were all a nuisance to me and I put every single one off until the last minute. Fortunately for all of us, I love theatre. So all of the elements that come into putting together a production have been at the forefront of my mind for months. The planning, the studying, late night rehearsing, though time-consuming and sometimes exasperating, seem so worth it when I see this show come to life. Every single person involved in this production has not taken their tasks lightly. I am truly in awe of this cast (especially my littles and their professionalism), this crew (the costumes, the props, the set!!), my team (y'all really know how to make these numbers look and sound incredible!) and my Rebecca (You are my life source always!!). They say it takes a village and whoever said that wasn't lying. My village, my people, my family that I've been able to gain through this three-month long journey, are such good reminders of why I do this! The opportunity to take a story so wonderful as Matilda, make it our own and leave you feeling fulfilled (hopefully adding some magic to your day) lets me know that I am on the right path! Thank you for coming and I hope you enjoy these REVOLTING TIMES! -Adam Isbell, Director

Never having been in a play (other than school) before, she was THRILLED when she got the news she'd been cast as Lavender, Matilda's best friend. This is her first play and she has enjoyed working with Adam, the BEST director, Meredith, who has coached her vocals so well, and will surely be auditioning for more plays in the future. Thanks to all the actors and theater team for making this a wonderful first experience for Olivia.

KARIS BOOTHE (Michael/Ensemble) is so excited to be in her first production with The Players! She's been in theatre for a year, is loving every second of it!
